By STAN MOHR

NELSON, B.C.—Flyers' chances of arriving home Wednesday night appeared remote early Tuesday when it was learned that the train on which they are due to pull out of here later in the day is running eight to nine hours late.

All of the mountain west of here making it necessary to use a detour is the cause for the delay.

HEMM! GOOD! Cook books and clocks aside, there is only one way of telling a good stew, and Steve Lakuta, head chef at the Royal George, demonstrates the good old "tasting" method. Of all the delicacies a cook can whip up, Lakuta says there is none to compete with a really good stew.

YOU GUESSED IT—THE CHEF

Unseen Boss Is the Man Stewing Over Stewpans

By HAROLD JONES

The most important man in a restaurant is the man one never sees, and of whom one seldom thinks. He is the chef, the quarter-master, come inventory keeper, cook, foreman and artist.

Such a one is Steve Lakuta, who has worked in restaurant kitchens for 20 years and as head chef in the Royal George for the past nine.

And in the business of commercial cooking, as in any other trade, the qualifying recommendations are ability, willingness to work hard and vast experience.

Lakuta began as a bus boy at the age of 16. Then he graduated to a pantry boy, a baker's helper, to pastry cook, morning man and finally a full fledged cook and chef.

As a pantry boy, his duties included mixing salads and salad dressings under the keen eye of a supervising cook.

A morning man is a cook in the capacity of a "first mate." He takes over the watch before the chef and does the "heavy cooking" are responsibilities of the head chef.

Short orders and "dry" work looked after by other cooks, all of whom are supervised by Lakuta.

What are the inner secrets of a chef's life? What is his favorite dish? This one, believe it or not, picked stew.

"I still enjoy a good 'cooked' meal," Lakuta declared.

He explained that by "cooked" he meant a "bowl" or "stew."

"A braised stew," he responded. "There's really an art for you."

And there is more to it than a recipe and measuring cup.

"We all use certain spicing," he said. "That depends on where you are eating. But the main thing is the cooking."

The cooking, he explained, "binds" the flavors together, making a truly succulent dish. Wrong cooking—poor stew!

But there is one place where Lakuta will never cook. In his own home.

"I've laughed," he said. "At home I'll eat anything. I'll eat cold potatoes, but I won't cook."

And there is more to it than a recipe and measuring cup.

"We all use certain spicing," he said. "That depends on where you are eating. But the main thing is the cooking."

MIXING DRINKS PROVES COSTLY
Perhaps his mother never told him, but a visitor from Vancouver discovered chatting with strangers in a railway station can be very costly.

Jack Keiman, Vancouver, police alleged, was charged with mixing drinks in the station wash room.

Heard and McCombs pleaded guilty and were fined $30 or six weeks.

Keiman told the court he was on holiday and had just stopped to chat with the two men. He was fined $10 or 14 days.

Ice Breaker For Arctic

Edmonton may get a new northern link with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Approval of construction of a large, modern ice breaker for the RCN has been announced by Hon. Brooks Claxton, Minister of National Defence.

Director of Naval Information in Ottawa said the craft will probably be used to service weather stations along Canada's thousands of miles of Arctic coastline.

Preliminary planning of the ship is now under way. It will also be used in cooperation with civilian agencies such as the department of transport.

In wartime, the craft would be used to keep strategic harbors open.

Court Gives Man a Chance

Pleading guilty to two charges of theft, Lloyd Cartier no longer charged, was remanded until April 6.

The court, the court was told "borned" a suit of clothes from Fred McDowell, Commercial Hotel owner, and sold it to a second-hand store for $8.

On the second charge of theft he is alleged to have stolen a watch, valued at $50, from his cousin, Alfred Cartier, 222 1/2 Ave. where he told police he left for security a loan from a man in North Edmonton whom he doesn't recall.

He asked court permission to seek out this man and return the watch to him.

Dutch Immigrants Arrive in Edmonton And More Coming
A large number of Dutch immigrants are expected to arrive in Edmonton, according to a report from the Dutch Consulate in Ottawa.

N. S. McGuire, head of Canadian National Railway colonization department, in Ottawa, said that four more boat loads of Dutch people will be sailing soon for Edmonton.

The ships are scheduled to dock at Halifax April 25, May 4, May 12 and May 20.

Those coming to Edmonton and those who will live here about four days after arrival.

Sunday 55 immigrants arrived in Edmonton. Some continued on to British Columbia, but close to 40 boarded trains for other points in Northern Alberta. About 25 will reside near the city.

Costs Will Soar In Wake of Boost

Increases Inevitable In View of Rail Rates

Increased living costs on nearly every side were foreseen Monday following The Bulletin's Ottawa report that a 21 per cent freight rate boost was to be announced today.

Asked to comment on the effect of the increase in freight rates, J. A. Christiansen, manager of Waterloo Motors, said it would mean about $60 per unit increase for every car shipped here from manufacturing plants in Eastern Canada.

The increase on trucks would be slightly higher.

MIGHT USE TRUCKS
Increased delivery costs, Mr. Christiansen said, would warrant consideration of the use of trucks in transporting passenger cars from Eastern Canadian factories to the Edmonton market.

Alex MacDonald, official of Canada Limited, noted that the cost of the boost in freight rates would further increase the disparity between rail and truck rates.

Meat products produced and consumed locally will also be affected by the increase in freight rates. To cover the increased costs of shipping live cattle to market, Mr. MacDonald said.

Wholesale grocer, H. H. Cooper, said the increase will mean a rise in the price of food items to the consumer.

Increased railway rates, Mr. Cooper said, will mean greater use of trucks in an effort to supply consumers at lowest cost.

Edmonton manager for a line of cars, J. A. Christiansen, said the increased freight rates would mean only one result—a boost in the price of all machinery.

Prices for machinery are based on factory prices plus transportation costs. On this basis, he estimated the cost of a tractor in port would be $2,000.

Managers of several Edmonton department stores declared that they would not be able to supply full lines of the merchandise until they had been able to study full text of the announcement.

Charles G. Garrett, past president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, said the increase in freight rates would mean a rise in the price of all machinery.

F. G. Wigney, said, "The increase in freight rates is a serious problem. It is a fact that some increase was necessary because of increased cost of transportation."

SOME GRATIFICATION
"We are gratified," he said, "that there is to be no increase in the cost of grain shipments to either the head-of-the-bay or west coast."

"It is looked to affect an increase in the cost of living," Mr. Garrett added.

President of the Manufacturers Association in Edmonton, A. E. Roques, looked for the rate increase to cause an increase in the price of goods. It is too great for manufacturers to absorb, he said.

Mr. Roques said he expected truck lines would follow the railways with increased rates. He expected he said, that shipper would switch to this mode of transportation.

Rate set by the commission on shipping is too excessive, said Mayor Harry Atkinson of Edmonton. The west has always suffered from the cost of shipping is of a bulky nature, he said, necessitating the return of empty freight cars. "In spite of this I have always understood that the companies found their western long hauls more profitable than the short hauls of the east."

On this charge Pamburn was fined $25 and Taylor $15.

"We've got a job to go to, so we get out of here," Pamburn told the court.

"I'm going to give you a job," the magistrate said. "I've given you your behavior since you came into the court. You think it's a big job to give you a chance to get out of the back of the court quite a show. I will command the Port to do you both good."

Soviets Hold Menacing Fist Over Helsinki

By EDWIN SHANKS
HELSINKI, March 30.—(AP)—The Russians hold a heavy fist over Helsinki.

It is known as the Porkkala district which Russia obtained as a naval base on a 50-year lease from the Finns under the peace treaty. The presence of an armed camp of Russians just 10 miles west of the capital always is in the minds of the Finns, particularly when they are up against delicate situations in Russo-Finnish relations.

If necessary, the Russians could move strategically inland in three directions from Porkkala. A warship could fire into the Finnish capital without difficulty.

ASTRID RAIL LINE
Porkkala has an area of approximately 300 square miles. It lies astride the main railway line from the capital to Turku, Finland's second city and one of its most important ports.

As far as Finland is concerned, Porkkala is a "forbidden land." No Finns live there. No Finns may enter. Its borders are closely guarded.

At first the Russians refused to permit transit rail traffic through Porkkala on the only direct line from Helsinki to Turku. Now transit rail traffic is permitted, but iron sleds are drawn before each carriage window before the train crosses the boundary. Finns call it "the longest tunnel in the world."

Unions Demand End Sea Strike

VANCOUVER, March 30.—(CP)—British Columbia maritime unions Monday demanded in a wire to Labor Minister Mitchell immediate action to bring pressure on ship owners and end the two-coast, deep-sea shipping strike, now in its 28th day.

Decision was reached here in an "emergency meeting" attended by union officials and federal, provincial and civil government representatives.

James Sinclair, Liberal member of parliament for North Vancouver, suggested that if the strike is not settled before parliament sits next Monday, it be brought before the Commons' labor relations committee.

James Thompson, B.C. president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, said the wage dispute now being fought is "national emergency" as it affected other workers apart from the strike of radio and engineer officers.

He said he knew of one longshoreman who had been killed only 15 for the last two weeks.

BOY BELIEVES LIONESS POACH: RESULT IS BAD

TORONTO, March 30.—(CP)—A lioness and a young boy, Keith Robinson of Barroff, Ont., met Monday in one of the Coliseum's corridors at the Exhibition Grounds and the boy received minor arm scratches before he realized the animal was not a "big dog."

Kept in the middle of the second act of Garden Bros. Circus, the lioness terrified a large number of children before it was captured in a washroom.

The boy had his windbreaker torn—the lioness struck twice at him before he ran—but his arm injuries were not serious.

SHILO COMMANDANT TELLS OF VISIT

German POW's Smartest Turned Out "Soldiers"
SHILO, Manitoba, March 30.—German prisoners of war are the smartest turned-out "soldiers" in Britain today.

Lieutenant-colonel R. H. Webb, commandant of Shilo army camp, has set forth his impressions of a visit to England in the Shilo Observer, an army newspaper.

Uniforms, said Colonel Webb, are still to be seen in quantity, but streets are filled with Poles and German prisoners of war instead of Canadian and American soldiers.

British soldiers have still not got around to getting their uniforms, he added, although many of them are now wearing Canadian-patterned battle dress.

London, he said, is virtually unchanged except that everywhere there are signs of repairs to bomb damage.

Shops are full of things to buy at outrageous prices, but people seem to have the money to buy them.

Fresh paint and new posters are decorating railroad stations and although coaches are still comfortable, nothing has been done to improve the atrocious (to Canadians at least) baggage system.

Street traffic is heavier than during the war, and taxi "tips" have come down to skimping or a shilling.

Southampton, he said, is less active than at the time of the invasion of Europe. The Solent is littered with hulks of LCTs, invasion craft and sections of "mulberry" harbor.

England, Colonel Webb concludes, is gradually getting back on her feet.

Huge Prize Stake In Rates Case

Full 30 Pct. Freight Boost
$100,000,000 Year in Revenue
By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, March 30.—(CP)—The greatest prize in Canadian judicial history was at stake in the railway freight rate case that ended Tuesday in the courtroom of the Board of Transport Commissioners. It amounted to $100,000,000 a year.

That was about the added revenue the railways would have received from a full 30-per-cent increase in their tolls, on the basis of their last operating year.

PEACE-TIME BOOBY TRAP JAILS PAIR

WINNIPEG, March 30.—(CP)—Two brothers, John and Joseph Leblanc, have been convicted and sentenced to three years and 23 months in jail, respectively—largely on account of a booby trap.

The brothers were convicted Thursday of attempted robbery. Two investigators, J. K. Troit and A. M. Young, testified they retired for the night in a hotel room, rigged a wire from their trousers—hanging over a chair—to the light switch so the lights would go on if the clothing was disturbed.

At 6 a.m. the lights went on and the two detectives leapt from the bed, pursued and caught John Leblanc on the stairs. At this point Joseph appeared and was questioned. He gave no explanation of his presence in the hall, said at first his name was "Mr. Black."

Later it was found that he was a brother of the first man.

Brothers Killed On Level Crossing

TORONTO, March 30.—(CP)—Two brothers were fatally injured Monday when their automobile was struck by a Canadian National railway passenger train at a level crossing near Port Credit, 12 miles west of here.

Police said Donald Besse, 17, died almost instantly Douglas Besse, 30, died in hospital here about an hour later.

The brothers had stopped at a westbound freight pass. As they started across, a fast Canadian passenger train came from the east, struck the car, and dragged it for one-third of a mile.

held, the worse would be its position.

The prairie provinces argued that their rate level was higher than in the east and that eastern rates should be brought up to the prairie level before any rate changes were touched. Alternatively, they proposed that depressed "competitive" rates in Ontario and Quebec should be boosted to standard levels.

MOVE RULED OUT

(Last fall, during the course of the hearings, the railways made an attempt to jack up by 30 per cent all their competitive rates—which are tolls that have been paid to meet competition—but the board ruled out the move, deciding the carriers should await the outcome of the general hearing.)

On behalf of Alberta, British Columbia, the argument was raised that there should be no increase before removal of the "mountain differential" rate over the Rockies. This is a rate 15 to 20 per cent above on certain hauls over the Rockies, and the two western provinces and their home base of the added charge.

Two Trainmen Die

Flyers Pack Too Much Class for B.C. Champs

who played another outstanding game, to get this one back on a play with Anderson and Andy Cleveloch in the 17th minute.

In between times Flyers rode out a pair of storms built up as first Mory Rimstad and then Young had the book thrown at them by the officials. Both drove 16-minute misconduct penalties in the first period, Rimstad earning the first of the whistle-tossing argument over a minor penalty dished out to Black young catching the eye for throwing the parts of a broken stick across the crowd.

Despite the enforced absence of the pair of one-time EAC jokers, Flyers carried the play to Smoke Eaters. Anderson played two lines while Rimstad was away, while Gordon Watt and Bud McPherson took overtime on the defense to make sure for Young's being in the "in bin."

Before the misconducts had been served Flyers were on their way on Mory's goal. With Black and Rimstad sealed beside each other in the penalty box the Smokeless scoring attack, kept taking advantage of what seemed like a real opportunity to throw Flyers off-side.

EAERNESS BACKFIRES
Their enthusiasm proved their undoing. Anderson suddenly broke free of a Trail power attack to carry straight down the middle to carry the puck into the net. The referee, however, ruled that he had taken the left side to take a well-earned rest, and the puck was sent to Scodellaro from 10 feet.

At the other end as the period was along Zeta Clements, "Red" Sutherland and Turk kept Al Collins. Flyers rolled in the penalty box to take a well-earned rest, and the puck was sent to Scodellaro from 10 feet.

The noisy demonstrative crowd (close to 1,000 of the fans had made the jump from Trail via special train, automobile and bus) was hardly settled into the seats when the referee ruled that the Western Canada wheel had been forced around behind the net and was being passed out to Cleveloch went in off Scodellaro.

EXTRA RUBBER
Smokeless pressed in frenzied fashion following this reverse, with play being held up on one occasion when Bullins turned over to the officials four or five picks suddenly dished along the boards to the left of the Flyer cage.

How the puck got there was still a puzzle. "Whodunnit" several hours after the game was finished.

At 44 minutes of play on the game following a dangerous thrust by Turk AVANZ, the city's "Smokies" playing with the Smokies.

The Flyer left-wing came hurtling out of the Edmonton and with the rubber in tow. He lugged it down the left side, and off Turk who hit tripped him, and then caught the cord with his right hand after Scodellaro had made his move.

There wasn't much doubt from this point about the final outcome. The Smokies came out for the third period determined to get a little all-out effort to salvage one game being played for Edmonton and a resumption of the series. For close to 10 minutes they forced the play into the Flyer cage, and all-out effort to salvage one game being played for Edmonton and a resumption of the series.

Jim Anderson, another Edmonton on the Smoke Eater roster, drove into the Flyer cage, and all-out effort to salvage one game being played for Edmonton and a resumption of the series.

Young broke his stick making the game a tie. The puck went to Turk who got it away and saw it roll over the line after being hit by the referee. Turk's left, the Kootenay kids just couldn't break down Rimstad's defense for a second goal.

Near the end Young came through with Flyers' fourth corner. He followed Anderson and Cleveloch in on the Trail cage to glom onto the rebound of Cleveloch's drive and ease the puck into the net past the prostrate Scodellaro. The manoeuvre was executed with all the flair of a Rimstad.

Smokeless gave up then and there. LOOKING AHEAD
Later the Flyers were talking about the Fort Frances-Winnipeg series, weighing the chances of both clubs.

"I hope Fort Frances wins," Al Collins said. "I've never been down there. The game is a real grinder and his teammates aren't you can see they're no longer consider Smokeless Eaters much of a threat."

It will be Flyers against the winner of the Fort Frances-Winnipeg series in the Western final, and you don't have to be a gambler to see that way.

Of the six major league clubs who were trained in Cleveland and Arizona this spring, none has displayed more hustle or better spirit than the Bruins.

This has been evident in the club's daily drills and its practice games, and by the way, the Bruins have been registering around a 50 per centage in the sun-kissed state.

LOST SIX PLAYERS
For a club that lost no less than a good player via the front office winter drive, Bob Smith, Fred Watson and Johnny Hertzog to Cleveland, and Jack Kramer, Elmer Klander and Vern Smith to the Boston Red Sox, the display of high morale is to be applauded.

Mack's A's Regarded Pennant Contenders

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Two of three Philadelphia Athletics pitchers with no-hit games to their credit were thinking today of cutting themselves pieces of birthday cake.

Respected Bill Dietrich celebrated his 38th birthday Monday and Dick Fowler, 37, was more than a decade his junior.

Never before in baseball history has one team had at one time as many as three pitchers win no-hit games. But only enough one of the trio is the top pitcher in the club.

What makes Mack a happy 35-year-old.

The A's do not present a formidable batting order even with the addition of Rudy York and Stan Chalmers.

New Area For Leduc Field

A southward extension of the Leduc oil field seems assured to day with the announcement of a successful test of D2 zone at Okla No. 2.

A 175-foot column of oil was recovered after an hour's test with bottom at 522 feet.

Natural gas flowed at a rate of 15,000 cubic feet per day.

This was the fourth test of the zone in which porosity was first found at 5162 feet. Previous tests have given oil and light gas flows but no free oil.

It is expected that coring and testing will be continued.

Globe-Leduc West No. 7, the new westward extension, which gave assurance of a well in D2 is now going down to test D3 potentialities. Success in this effort would extend the area in which quality of production exists and again extend the potential production of the field.

This well is a Western offset of Globe-Leduc West No. 3, which was completed in D2 as was the northern offset, Imperial Leduc No. 25.

The half section on which these wells are located is almost two miles west of the main field.

It was confident implementation would be effected.

Dealing with capitalization, Mr. Hodgson said the policy in future will be to raise money for major rates, but certain public works would be paid for from land sales revenue.

He was of the opinion the city would benefit very considerably when the Judge commission's findings are made public and the freeing of the touched part.

Coast Loop Looks For Banner Year

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—(AP)—The Pacific Coast League—baseball's traditional bellow—opens another season of diamond activity Tuesday.

Always first to respond to the cry of "play ball," the PCL starts its 46th year with high hopes, pocketbooks—and a midwestern lull.

St. Francisco's Seals—always there or thereabouts under lefty O'Doul, the coast's steady manager—again rank as favorites for the pennant over the elongated league course.

The league—whose president, Clarence Rowland hopes to make it may have added considerable talent of major league status last year, as well as numerous promising rookies from lower leagues.

Rowland predicts a banner season, topping even 1947 when some 400,000 fans were lured through the turnstiles for an all-time minor league record.

Experts all, however, to see how the pennant race can be any closer than last year when Los Angeles and San Francisco battled to a dead heat in the season's standings and the Angels won a single game playoff.

Iran Expresses Desire For Soviet Friendship

TEHRAN, March 30.—(AP)—The Iranian government has informed the Soviet Union that it regards the business of being a good neighbor as a two-way proposition.

The government's note, made public yesterday, was addressed to the Russian embassy. It said that Iran's Soviet propaganda which pictures Iran as "being changed to a military base against Russia is absolutely without foundation."

UNFRIENDLY VIEWS.—Despite repeated explanations, the note said, persons related to the Soviet government have continued to circulate unfriendly views regarding the position of United States military advisers here and Iran's policy in connection with Northern Iranian oil deposits.

The note denied that Americans are trying to get hold of the northern oil. Employment of foreign engineers, it said, continues Iran's traditional policy and is guarding her own interests. The note added:

"As repeatedly mentioned in the Soviet government's authorities both in Moscow and in Tehran, the Iranian government again strongly assures that there is no enemy in Iran. We are our great neighbor and ally, the Soviet Union, and it has always been our wish to maintain good neighborly relations with her."

FOLLOW UP CHARTER.—The Iranian government's aim, the note said, is to follow through and openly the United Nations charter regarding the position of United States military advisers here and Iran's policy in connection with Northern Iranian oil deposits.
